

Clare Freeman-Sergeant

FISTD, LRAD, ARAD, BA (Hons), RAD (RTS), AIDTA (Bt), BBO (RTS), QTLS, MA, AF HEA

Since falling in love with dance as a young student at the Caribbean School of Dance, Trinidad, W.I. Clare's ballet training has been extremely varied. Clare's greatest influence came from the years spent training professionally in Guadeloupe F.W.I. with Frederic Jahn and Patricia Ruanne (ex ballet masters at the Paris Opera and ex directors of La Scala Milan).

Clare is a Fellow of the Imperial Ballet Faculty (ISTD) and a Licentiate and Registered Teacher with the RAD, and BBO. Clare also has a BA (Hons) in the Art and Teaching of Ballet from the Royal Academy of Dance, Associate Fellowship (HEA), QTLS status, MA in Ballet Studies, and is currently undertaking a PhD in Music and Dance at Roehampton University.

Over recent years Clare has gained extensive international ballet teaching experience throughout the Caribbean, South America, Europe and Australasia, she currently teaches the RAD Vocational classes at Central School of Ballet and is now delighted to be part of the faculty at WLS Dance.
